Proposals for New K-8 Grade School and $394,000 Bond Issue Favored Two to One; Vote Largest in History of District 34

Board Will Meet Tuesday to Start Plans for Bldg. at Oakland Site

An official canvass of the vote in Saturday's referendum on the proposal to build a new 17-room K-8 school building at the Oakland School site passed by more than two to one.

The Board of Education last evening announced that the official vote on the proposition to erect a building at the district's 20-acre site at Deep Lake and Loon Lake rds., passed 389 to 178, and the proposition to issue $394,000 in bonds to pay for construction of the building was favorable 377 to 186.

A total of 581 votes was cast and there were nine spoiled ballots. Needless to say, the board was quite pleased with the outcome.

Board Will Meet Tuesday

Meeting in regular session next Tuesday the board will begin at once its work to prepare for the building. It will have frequent sessions with the architect in planning arrangements and details of the building, and will begin at once to prepare the bonds for sale at public bidding.

Supt. Richard Whitacre estimated that it will take two months to arrive at final plans and specifications, and it will be well into spring before the contract is let.

Gilbert A. Johnson of Rockford is the architect.

Plans call for completion by fall of eight classrooms, a kindergarten room, nurse's room, teachers' rooms, office, kitchen and an all-purpose room at this time, and a shell for eight other classroom which would be completed yearly as needed through regular tax revenues.

School to have 250 Pupils

Supt. Whitacre said that the 250 pupils in the area of the new building will fill the eight classrooms at the start.

Overflow of present buildings is taken care of through use of the Scout House, the old school building and the Oakland school.

The new school will be nearly in the center of the district.

Antioch Beats Ela; Holds Second Place; Wauconda Here Friday

Frosh-Soph Continues as Conference Leader by Defeating Cubs

Antioch High will take on the win-less Wauconda basketball team here tomorrow night after having establishing an undisputed hold on second place in conference standing through the defeat of Ela-Vernon here last Friday 53 to 46.

While the varsity was establishing itself in second place, the Antioch frosh-soph team continued to hold first place in its conference class through defeat of Ela-Vernon frosh-soph 43 to 42.

The fact that the Bulldog varsity hasn't entered the victory column this season doesn't mean Wauconda doesn't have a good team. Wauconda has scored nearly as many points as Antioch this season, but her weakness has been on the defense which means that her opponents have been able to score more.

The Sequoits will play at Glenbrook Monday night.

The Sequoits were completely outplayed by the Ela-Vernon Bears during the first half of their game Friday. Bent on an upset, the Bears had a commanding 30-12 point lead at the half, but the fighting Sequoits got busy in the third period and scored 20 points to the visitors' 6, opening the final period 38 to 32 (continued on page 12)

Dr. Kopriva and Horan Head Red Cross Fund Drive in Antioch Twp.

Campaign to Take Place in March; Lake Co. Alone in Drive

Dr. J. W. Kopriva and John L. Horan of Antioch will head the Red Cross membership fund drive in Antioch Township, according to Ray Nicholas, deputy general chairman for Zone B comprising Antioch, Avon, Grant, Newport, Lake Villa and Warren townships.

Messrs. Kopriva and Horan will coordinate all fund-raising activities in the annual drive which begins March 1 and continues through March 31.

"We have an especially big job to do in Lake County this year," the Antioch chairmen said, "and its made doubly important because this is the first fund campaign the newly-organized Lake County chapter will conduct. It must be successful if we're to get the chapter on a solid basis at the very beginning."

Dr. Kopriva explained that until last summer Lake County was divided into two sections by Red Cross boundary lines. The northern half of the county functioned as the North Lake County Chapter and (Continued on page 12)

Honest Abe Days Expected to Draw Crowds To Antioch Stores Next Monday and Tuesday

Methodist Men's Club Gets National Charter At Ladies' Night Feast

One hundred men and women attended the Charter Night meeting of the Antioch Methodist Men's Club Monday evening at Wesley hall in the Methodist church.

Elkhorn Nips Wilmot; Salem Central Loses To Watertown High

Both Wilmot and Salem Central lost in basketball last week.

Salem Central was no match for the Watertown last Friday, taking the short end of a 72-51 score. It was the eighth straight victory for the host team which is ranked tenth in Wisconsin.

Watertown led 41 to 20 at the half and then coasted the rest of way. Central's main ability was at the foul line where the Falcons made 23 of the 29 free throws.

Wilmot lost at Elkhorn Friday night 66 to 70 in a game that was fast and furious.

Elkhorn took an early lead but Wilmot closed the gap and from then on the two teams were never separated more than five points. The Elks took advantage of free throws to forge ahead at the last minute.

Diek Timmer and Roger Allen were high point men for the panthers with 18 and 17 points respectively.

Elkhorn has now won six and lost four while Wilmot has won five and lost six.

"Honest Abe" Days are only four days away and residents of the Antioch shopping area are getting ready to take advantage of bargains that are real.

Through arrangements by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, Antioch merchants will devote next Monday and Tuesday to convincing shoppers that it pays to shop in this village.

Low prices on many articles are offered by most stores.

The stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday and despite the Abraham Lincoln Birthday holiday on Tuesday, the stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

There will be free parking at the public lot all day and two-hour free parking at the metered spaces.

Parking of the children will be at the Lakes theater where from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the children can get in for just a Lincoln penny. Merchants will distribute Lincoln pennies to children who come to their stores with their parents.

Free bus transportation is offered for Tuesday. The schedule will be found in the Special Chamber of Commerce Edition in another part of this paper. Approximately 30,000 pieces of printed matter advertising the big sales event have been mailed out in the Antioch trading area, so that everyone may know about it. There will be crowds in town Monday and Tuesday.

Persons who called the telephone number 1300 have discovered a recording in breezy manner informing them of Honest Abe Days.

"Call 1300" has been found on many a desk this week and the line has been jammed.

Charles Cermak Files As Candidate for Post Of Village President

Charles J. Cermak today filed his petition as a candidate for president of the village board.

It is his second bid for the office and is made with a definite platform. His declaration that if he is elected he will:

Revise antiquated laws and bring them up to date to meet present demands such as building and zoning regulations; will cooperate to improve the relations between the citizens and village government by the formation of a Citizens Committee, which would present or suggest improvement for action by the Village Board; will investigate the possibility of 24-hour police protection in both business and residential sections; will investigate the possibility of registration of transient solicitors and peddlers; and cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations in their constant endeavor to make Antioch a better place in which to live.

Cermak has been in the real estate and insurance business in Antioch six years and a resident of the community 35 years. He was one of the organizers of the Chamber of Commerce.

He is on the executive board of the Lake County Tuberculosis, and is serving his second term on the Lake County Board of Realtors. He was chairman of the Red Cross fund drive two years, was post adjutant of the American Legion and cub master of the local Cub Scout troop.

Word From Rep. Church To Antioch News First

Antioch's home delivery mail service will start April 1. A message to the Antioch News from Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church said she had been assured that home delivery service will be instituted on that date.

This fact was confirmed today by word from the regional office received by Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk. He received instruction yesterday from the Chicago office to seek bids on an auto for the mounted carrier service.

Peter Baker & Sons Awarded Contract for Local Street Paving

Low Bid $18,351.36 on Orchard, Broadway, Hillside Arterial Streets

Peter Baker and Sons, Lake Bluff, was the low bidder on the Broadway, Orchard St. and Hillside ave. street improvement and will receive the contract from the Village, subject to the approval of the State Highway department. That firm's bid was $18,351.36.

Work will be started in early spring and completed within 20 working days.

The improvement calls for sealing of Broadway between Orchard and Lake st. with its final asphalt coat and paving with blacktop to a width of 22 feet Orchard street west of Broadway to Hillside and then south to Lake st.

The motion, to let the contract was made by Trustee Murrill Cunningham, chairman of the street and lighting committee and seconded by Trustee Arthur M. Hawkins.

Unsuccessful bidders were Liberty Petroleum Co., Grayslake, which bid $19,530.41, and Skokie Valley Asphalt Co., Des Plaines, Ill., with a bid of $19,732.19.

Higher Than Was Estimated The engineer's estimate had been $16,500, and because the lowest bid was higher than that and $1,600 still is needed for engineer fees, it was necessary for the Village Board to appropriate $4,000 additional money. (continued on page 7)

Wadsworth Grade School will get $1,286.20; Newport, $8,330.01; Lotus Country, $1,722.38; Millburn, $2,332.03; Hickory, $834.45; Emmons, $1,086.80; Channel Lake, $7,437.28; Grass Lake, $2,446.60; Gavin, $59,396.63; and Lake Villa, $90,408.87.

Fact Finding Committee Recommends That Antioch Area Schools Finance Needs Survey

Recommendation to the schools of the Antioch area that they employ the Northwestern University Field Service department as an aid in a survey of needs in connection with the Community Unit System was made by the Fact Finding Committee.

The committee met with Dr. Jack Childress and Dr. Robert Chandler of the University Tuesday evening at Grass Lake School in which the services of the department were explained.

The committee recommended that the following be considered by the school boards of the Antioch area:

1. That a school needs survey be conducted by Northwestern University.

2. That the cost of conducting the survey be shared by the districts interested on a pro-rated percentage of the total assessed valuation of the particular districts involved.

3. That Northwestern University be contracted with to execute the school needs survey if a majority of the school boards agree to the items of 1 and 2.

The decisions of the school boards

Home delivery service will mean one foot carrier and one mounted carrier. The mounted carrier will carry mail to the relay boxes and to sparsely settled areas in the outskirts where boxes will be put up at the streets.

Foot delivery will mean delivery to the door.

Two things will be necessary to insure delivery, Postmaster Kufalk said. One is that the house is numbered and the other is that there is a receptacle (mail box) or a slot in the door where mail can be placed.

Information as to the number of the house or business place is obtainable from Village Clerk Clarence Shultis. The numbers may be purchased anywhere the patron desires and put up by him in a conspicuous place.

Oakwood Knolls homes have been numbered.

"It is time that Antioch citizens commence notifying their correspondents what their house or business numbers will be," said Postmaster Kufalk. "As I understand it, the carrier cases will carry only the house numbers and not the names."

Supplies are already here ready for use, Kufalk said. This includes two carrier tables and cases, mail bags and straps.

The postmaster said that William Dow, at his request will be transferred from clerk to foot carrier. Just who the mounted carrier will be is not yet known. Neither does Kufalk know the exact routes because application for the California Subdivision to come in under this delivery service will have its effect upon the situation.

Relay boxes, which will include a place for the public to deposit mail, will be placed at the Village hall on Main st., near Ida ave. on Main st., near the St. Ignatius church; and at 996 Spafford st. A smaller drop box will be placed on Main st., at First st.

Home delivery does not mean that the citizen cannot continue to get mail in his special box at the post office, but he must pay rental. Some business houses will continue to get their mail in this fashion.

A Disaster That Didn't Happen

Remember when, twenty-odd years ago, it was argued that the growth of chain store merchandising menaced the very existence of the smaller retailers? Punitive Federal anti-chain legislation was urged in some quarters, on the grounds that this was the only way to save the independents from swift and sure extinction.

That legislation did not pass. And it's interesting to see just how inaccurate the views were of those who anticipated the doom of the independents.

Godfrey M. Lebar, editor of Chain Store Age, writes that in 1929 the chains accounted for 22.2 per cent of a total retail volume of $48 billion. In the latest year for which government figures are available, volume totaled $170 billion and the chains accounted for 23.5 per cent. As Mr. Lebar puts it, "In other words, despite all the drastic changes in retailing during the past 25 years, the chains, today, account for practically the same percentage of total sales as they did in 1929."

Why were the prophets of disaster so wrong? The main reason is that they grossly underestimated the abilities and spirit of the independent merchants. These merchants successfully emulated new techniques and ideas pioneered by the chains, and added consumer-attracting innovations of their own. The result is that all kinds of merchandising has gone steadily ahead, each keeping its share of the business—to the enormous benefit of the consuming public.

Economic Highlights

Today a bright economic future is on the drawing boards. But one important aspect of it has been overlooked. That aspect is the investor—on whom, in large measure, all the rest depends.

This view was expressed by Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, in an address before the recent 61st Congress of American Industry. The title of his talk indicates its substance—"Needed: A Fair and Warmer Investment Climate."

As Mr. Funston sees it, we are on the verge of advances greater than any we have known, and "such advances are likely to make unparalleled demands—not only on our resources and ingenuity, but also on our investment philosophy as well." In support of this position, he cites some impressive figures.

Our gross national product (the economist's term for the total value of all goods and services produced) has passed $400 billion a year—not long ago a magic and seemingly unattainable figure. Most estimates say that it will reach $525 billion, a jump of 30 per cent, by 1965, and some forecast a still higher level.

In Mr. Funston's words, "The impact of this new output on our already high living standard—assuming relatively stable prices—will be both staggering and magnificent. . . . For the average family, it will very likely mean an after tax income of over $7,500 a year.

It will mean a bigger house with an extra room on a larger lot; a second car for the family that now has one; better food cooked on a more efficient range; and more children and better communities to live in."

However, he goes on, "Like all things of value, this future has a price tag." And it's one whale of a price tag—$300 billion. That is the amount of capital our corporations will have to spend to build the plant capacity needed to meet 1965 goals. And $60 billion of that—an average of $6 billion a year—should be raised through the sale of new stock. Of the $60 billion, institutional investors can be expected to supply about half, leaving $30 billion to come directly from the American people. And this, as he points out, "represents a hitherto unknown scale of direct individual investments . . . in common stocks." It is three times the rate of recent years.

But it is not, to Mr. Funston's mind, an impossible goal by any means. We have the potential—last year, for instance, new stock issues reached an all-time high of about $3.5 billion, representing a 30 per cent rise over 1955. Some 8.6 million people now own stock in publicly-held corporations—one out of every 12 adults in the country. But to realize this potential, we need that fair and warmer investment climate."

There are various unfair burdens on stockholders that Mr. Funston cites. One is double taxation of dividends—first, the corporation pays a big tax on profits before it can distribute any dividends and then the individual income tax takes a second deep bite. Another is the capital gains tax—something that does not exist in Canada, England, or most other industrialized nations. Such penalties as these are a discouragement to the potential stock purchaser. And this is not a problem that just affects the wealthy—for, today, two-thirds of all shareowners have incomes of under $7,500 a year.

Views That Deserve Attention

Cuts in the highly progressive income tax rate would probably produce more rather than less revenue, by stimulating investments and speeding the nation's economic growth. That is one facet of a statement sent to a House sub-committee on taxation by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

A similar belief has been expressed by Ernest G. Swigert, president of the National Association of Manufacturers. In his view, normal economic growth, by providing increasing revenues to the government, would make possible reductions in both individual and corporation income tax rates without adding to anyone's tax burden.

The Chamber's statement said that across-the-board reductions could be made even in a period of high defense outlays through a sound program of controlled spending and borrowing by the federal government, plus the increased revenue from a fair and reasonable tax structure which would not be a deterrent to individual initiative and investment.

Views such as these certainly deserve the careful attention of the Congressmen who will deal with possible changes in the tax laws this year. If more money is left in the hands of the people, then more money will go into investment and into the channels of trade—and that in itself will be a strong stimulant to the government's tax take.

Finally, the more important parts of the Hoover Commission recommendations remain to be acted on. And here is a place where we can save billions a year, without in any way imperiling essential government functions.

SPORTS AND COMMENT FROM HERE & THERE

GOLF IS AN OLD MAN'S GAME.

You have no doubt heard it said, by those who don't play the game that "golf is not for me, that's an old man's game." Well, I am afraid these fellows have proved their point. The golf pros who range up and down the land playing for pots of gold are for the most part serious young fellows playing for next week's beans, but when the chips are really down it's the "old men" who rake in the mazzola. These "old men", who won't see the light side of 40 again don't attempt to make all the tournaments but when Demaret, Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, Ed Oliver or Dutch Harrison show up the young fellows usually get a lesson in the finer points of the game.

"Old man" Demaret just won the Thunderbird at Palm Springs same as he did last year, and for a few other examples Mangrum won the Los Angeles Open, Snead the Greensboro Open, Oliver the Greenbrier Open and Dutch Harrison the All-American.

In the spring when you go out to swing don't feel sorry for Dad cause like as not he'll still be walking quite a ways after you've hit your second shot and will be sitting on the edge of the green waiting for you to come out of the woods. Yeah, golf's an old man's game.

YOU'ALL remember what Custer said at the famous last stand, "Where'd all them Indians come from?" Well, what I'd like to know is where do all these tall basketball players come from.

The winningest high school team in the state is Serena, Ill., with an enrollment of 170. They've won their first 20 games fielding a starting five of 6-2, 6-2, 6-0, 6-1, and 5-10. Included in this string are victories over Marseilles, Ottawa, Morris and Princeton. In the race for the Illinois championship Peoria Central looms as a big threat to Elgin boasting a 6-0 record in league play. They start with five who reach 6-4, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4, and 5-10. Champaign, also a strong contender comes out with 6-1, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3, and 5-7. How'd that little guy sneak in there? But look at Elgin 6-7, 6-4, 6-5, 6-5 and 6-1. Knocking off this towering Elgin team is the prime objective of every contender in the state but so far they roll on with a perfect record of 15-0. According to Coach Bill Chesbrough, Elgin has faced just about everything in the way of defensive moves including the full court press, control ball and out and out stall. East Rockford gave them their closest scare the other night with a real freeze even refusing to shoot when they were four or five points behind. Elgin finally won by the amazing score, these days, of 15 to 16.

Everyone remembers John Wessels, high scoring center on West Rockford's 1955 and 1956 Illinois High School champions. University of Illinois got a real pleasant surprise the other day as John arrived on the University campus to register for the second semester. Last fall he was enticed to enroll at North Carolina but dropped out of school in November and returned to Rockford.

Next time you are about to beef at the referee you must remember that the official has to make all his decisions on a split second basis and he doesn't make many mistakes at that. Just remember, a court judge may deliberate for days or months and even then 40 per cent of all court decisions are reversed—says Bud Wilkensen, Oklahoma coach in defense of football official.

Taxpayers Responsible For Own Returns

Taxpayers of the Chicago district were cautioned today by District Director H. Alan Long of the Internal revenue service that they are responsible for the accuracy of the information in their income tax returns. Preparation of their 1956 tax forms by revenue personnel is no guarantee that the returns will not be audited.

"When we or anyone else help the taxpayer a return," Mr. Long said, "such assistance is no guarantee that the return is accepted as correct and not subject to either preliminary review or later complete audit.

"Every year taxpayers come to us for help and appear very disturbed to learn this. Our agents who prepare or assist are merely following the information provided by taxpayer. No matter who prepares a return, the taxpayer or taxpayers who sign it are responsible for its accuracy," Mr. Long emphasized.

"They must be prepared to back up all entries; to prove all claims. To us, returns prepared by revenue personnel or by outside sources are no different than those on which the individual taxpayer has worked himself for hours to do a thorough and accurate job. "It is essential for taxpayers to keep all records relating to their returns for at least three years after the filing date," Mr. Long added.

Three Illinois Bell Telephone Co. workmen are shown installing a 606-pair cable in a conduit in Antioch to meet telephone demands caused by continued residential growth in the Antioch area.

students and teachers from all schools in the Antioch area. They will make a personal contact by visiting each classroom, explaining the purpose of the crusade, giving a little of the history behind its work, and securing voluntary contributions from the school children, whose parents will be permitted to contribute through them. It is hoped to get every school child's name on the scroll to support the cause of freedom so that our schools may have a one hundred per cent enrollment. These "truth dollars" are to give encouragement and aid to the enslaved people of Europe who are not so fortunate as we who live in a free land.

Council Sponsors Dance

The A. T. H. S. Council is sponsoring an all high school dance on Saturday evening, March 2. This is to be a dress-up affair. The purpose is to allow our students to get together and enjoy a nice evening of dancing and getting acquainted, thus perhaps promoting a better school spirit.

Conference Dance Planned

The annual dance for the Student Councils of the Northwest Association of Student Councils will be held this year at Glenbrook on Friday evening, March 29. The Antioch Student Council will be allotted fifty tickets which will go on sale to Student Council members and their guests. If there are any left over, they will be offered to other students in the high school.

It starts with reading this Jewel Ad

You may just suddenly be in the mood for making a pizza ... or the children may want a bowl of chicken soup for lunch. Nice to just have to open the cupboard, isn't it? Helping you do this is one way Jewel ads serve you. And, of course, you're being smart because you bought when the items were specially priced.

Here's the bomb THAT BROKE THE "low-price" lineup!

This big high-stepping Chieftain started a revolution with a carload of "firsts" and an eye-popping price tag!

The low-price field never looked like this before! The handsome husky you see right here has the boat still rocking... with more power, more wheelbase, more room—and more sheer pride of ownership—than ever before possible on a well-trained budget! Just look at what they're making room for now in the low-price lineup: a strapping 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8... a whopping, road-hugging 122 inches of wheelbase and an all-new suspension system for a Level-Line Ride that's next best thing to a magic carpet! And this streamlined beauty takes on the field with more than six dozen "firsts", all proved by 100,000 of the roughest, toughest test miles a group of facts-minded engineers could devise! If this sounds like a wonderful buy—it certainly is! Our advice is to stop dreaming and price it! At a cost less than a lot of the low-price jobs, this newcomer is making big-time buyers out of former "all-three" owners!

Chamber of Commerce Hears Talk on Income Tax Avoidance, Evasion

Norman Jedele, local certified public accountant, informed members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce as to the difference between tax avoidance and tax evasion as they dined Monday evening at the Ruraltite.

Tax evasion, according to Jedele, is the attempt to avoid income tax payment by not reporting earnings and by declaring unauthorized exemptions or expenses. Such fraudulent action is punishable by fines and imprisonment.

Tax avoidance, said Jedele, is the reduction of income tax by planning for incomes and expenditures in ways that are tax advantageous. For example, a man in a high income bracket might purchase tax exempt school bonds, he said.

Jedele presented many helpful hints on legal ways for reduction of income tax.

WANT THE TRUTH?

Up to 6,000 traffic-accident deaths this year won't be "accidents" at all!

Forty thousand Americans will die in traffic accidents this year, according to the present mounting rate. And nearly six thousand of those deaths will be crimes—because of driver negligence—according to the FBI!

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP STOP THESE TRAGEDIES

1. Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning-signs. Where drivers are careful and obey the law, deaths go DOWN!
2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws! Wherever traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Study of Germs Aimed at Better Disease Controls

NEW BRUNSWICK—An entirely new means of controlling disease may be the outcome of studies being made at the Rutgers Institute of Microbiology on what makes bad germs grow and good ones die.

This approach is made possible because Dr. Werner Braun, professor of bacteriology at the Institute, has been able to produce in test tubes the same kind of changes in germ populations that occur in infected animals.

Heretofore, when disease-causing bacteria were cultivated under laboratory conditions, population changes occurred which supplanted the original bacteria with those of completely changed characteristics.

Dr. Braun and his associates found that under the influence of a breakdown product of bacteria and also in the presence of a chemical substance called kinetin, bacterial populations will change from non-disease producing or avirulent strains to predominantly disease-producing or virulent types.

With this information, he has started on a long-range search for substances which can offset this disease-producing phenomenon and keep the good germs good.

The search is supported by two research grants from government agencies. The National Science Foundation awarded Dr. Braun $25,900 and the United States Public Health Service has allocated an additional $34,342 to assist the work for the next three years.

New Brain Stroke Cause Reported

SEATTLE—A new type of paralyzing brain stroke has been discovered by two Los Angeles doctors.

Dr. Elliot Corday and Dr. Sanford Rotherberg of the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital and University of California Medical School said their discovery has solved a 2,400 year-old medical puzzle.

The new type of stroke is a result of the brain not receiving sufficient blood to function properly because of a narrowing of cerebral arteries and a drop in blood pressures, the doctors said. There are at least 12 causes of this cerebral vascular insufficiency, they added, ranging from loss of blood pressure because of heart irregularities to severe hemorrhages anywhere in the body.

Four other types of strokes are recognized by physicians, they pointed out: 1. brain hemorrhages; 2. blood clot on the brain; 3. blood clot which has traveled from the heart to the brain; and 4. cerebral artery spasm. In all these cases paralysis usually results from damage to the brain.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 1—How to Save Tax Dollars

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Between now and April 15 over sixty million Americans must file a tax return to report their 1956 income to the federal government. On the basis of past experience about 1 out of every 4 returns filed will contain an error of $2.00 or more. Last year these errors totaled over $100,000,000.

To help you prepare a correct return and avoid mistakes that cost you tax dollars, this newspaper is printing a series of helpful articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants.

Today's article deals with problems faced by almost anyone who has to make out a return. Later articles will give special hints on deductions you may take, particularly if you own a car, home or business. Use this series along with the official instruction book which comes free with your tax forms.

Common Mistakes

According to the results of a sampling by the Internal Revenue Service, the mistakes most often made by taxpayers fall into these four groups:

(1) Incorrect listing of income. This is the main source of error, partly because of debatable questions involving business income. Individuals make mistakes too by leaving out such items as interest on savings accounts, dividends and contest winnings, or by including items which are exempt.

(2) Errors in personal deductions. This category includes the deductions taken when the 10 percent "standard deduction" is not used. Important deductions from income are: state and local taxes, interest paid on loans, charitable contributions, medical expenses, losses from storm, fire, flood or theft.

(3) Claiming too many or too few dependents. Exemptions are allowed for the taxpayer himself and for certain persons he supports, if they fit the definitions in the instruction book.

(4) Faulty arithmetic. This is the cause of the fewest number of errors, but approximately 30 percent of these arithmetical mistakes are made by the taxpayer against himself, resulting in approximately $19,000,000 in overpayment of taxes.

The first thing to determine is whether you should file a return or not. Everyone whose gross income was $600 or more in 1956 must file.

Lake Co. Legislators Gain High Places on Assembly Committees

Lake County representatives to the State Assembly will play an important part in legislation this year. Rep. Robert Counson, Republican, Waukegan, a new comer to the legislative body will have an important committee assignment.

Rep. W. J. Murphy, Peoria, was named vice chairman of the liquor Regulation committee on which he served last year. Only a very few second-term legislators were honored by being named vice chairman. Other committees on which Murphy will serve are Motor Vehicles and Traffic Regulation, Conservation, License and Miscellaneous.

Rep. Jack Bairstow, Dem., Waukegan, one of the leaders in legislation during the last session, probably will be again this session.

He has been named to the Executive Committee of the House, which must pass on all proposals for constitutional amendments. He has done research in this field already. Other assignments are elections and Reapportionment, Judiciary, and Roads and Bridges.

Rep. Counson will serve on the Revenue Committee which must pass on any tax increases which may be made. It will be an important committee during this session according to Rep. Paul Simon in his "Legislative Sidelights," Written from Springfield.

Other committees on which Counson will serve are Motor Vehicles and Traffic Regulation, Military and Veteran Affairs, Personnel and Pensions.

University Department of Agronomy Reports on Results of Corn Experiment

An area of ground in the famous Morrow experimental plots at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, on which corn has been grown every season since 1876, yielded at the rate of 128 bushels per acre last year. The soil has received manure - lime - phosphate treatment since 1904, and was given extra potash, nitrogen and phosphate in 1955 and 1956.

This result is reported by Prof. M. B. Russell, head of the Agronomy Department of the College of Agriculture, in "Illinois Business Review," a university publication.

Another small tract which has been planted continuously to corn for 81 years and given no fertilizer until 1955-56 produced at the rate of 113 bushels per acre last year.

Russell's account points out that not all types of soil could be expected to show so quick a come-back after years of depletion. Furthermore, the large amounts of fertilizers added to this tract would not be economically practicable in ordinary farming.

Letters to The Editor

I read with interest, and have given a great deal of thought to the letter in last week's Antioch News written by a teenager's parent. It is human nature to try and place the blame for our own troubles and problems on someone else, in this case, on some other child's parents. This parent says, "We thought we had raised a happy uninhibited child until she reached teenage." The parents apparently dreamed along for 12 years and now suddenly find themselves faced with an overwhelming problem.

This parent COULDN'T have had any sons preceding the teenage daughter or he surely wouldn't be blaming so many of the problems on the boys and the Hot-Rods. On the other hand perhaps there were sons and the parent is all the more SHOCKED as the daughter reaches teenage to suddenly see the other side of the picture.

Being the parents of boys who are now through their teens and a girl in her teens we can appreciate how this parent may feel. Boys, to us, were really no great problem for they are expected to get into some trouble but can usually take care of themselves in most situations but it is a SHOCK when they are followed by a girl and the "boys" skid into the driveway and come to a "skreeching" halt, then "drag" off down the street with our precious daughter in tow.

We were young when our children came and also poor so it wasn't difficult for our main interest to be our children. The kids shared our problems and helped to solve them. Our recreation was often a picnic in the back yard and a game of "hide and seek" and we ALL had fun. I recall how pleased we were when the neighboring kids rang our doorbell one evening and asked, "Can your Dad come out and play?" I believe HERE is the answer to the teenage problem, it is not dreaming along for 12 years, it is BEING PART of their problems, sorrows, joys and happiness and ALLOWING THEM TO BE PART OF YOURS. This brings about a confidence and a trust which no unsound outside influence, such as this parent complains of, can break down.

"Age of House Boating" Claims Manufacturer

Hugh D. Robinson, Jr., president of Lake County's new marine manufacturing firm, Leisureline, Inc., of Waukegan, predicted today that houseboats are going to be the hit of the Chicago National Boat Show which opens Friday evening at the International Amphitheater for a 10-day run.

"Last year two houseboat firms were represented at the Chicago show. This year there will be six—and five houseboat builders who wanted space couldn't get it because it was sold out," Robinson said.

"The age of houseboating has finally arrived," Robinson claims. "It was nurtured by outboard boaters who finally tired of great speed in small boats and turned to houseboats which offered the room and facilities a family needs to be comfortable on the water. And now houseboats have become the target of first-time buyers."

Robinson believes Leisureline is the newest firm in the nation manufacturing cruising houseboats. The company received its corporation charter from the state of Illinois two weeks ago.

The firm will establish display rooms and main offices in Waukegan and will manufacture boats in two plants in North Chicago.

Establishment of the firm reasserted Lake county's claim to marine capital of the nation. The county already boasts the world's largest outboard motor manufacturing firm in Johnson Motors, and is headquarters for Johnson's parent company Outboard Marine Corp.

The new Leisureline cruising houseboat, called the Vagabond, is a 26-foot long craft constructed of plywood. It was designed by A. M. Deering, noted Chicago naval architect.

The craft has a semi "V" bottom, which departs from the scow type bow so long standard in houseboats, for better steering control and performance. Steering is also aided by three skegs.

The main cockpit of the boat, a seven-by-eight-foot space, is located in the forward part of the boat so the helmsman and his passengers will have an unobstructed view of what's ahead.

"Besides good construction, we're stressing style," Robinson said. "It's time to stop imagining an ungainly, boxy structure when the word 'houseboat' is mentioned," Robinson claims.

Leisureline's designers have come up with a heavy plywood parapet which runs the length of the boat along the cabin roof to achieve a long, low effect.

The boat is designed primarily for outboard power.

Equipment inside the cabin includes two lounging seats which convert into four bunks, toilet, sink, stove, icebox, tables, 12-volt light fixtures which can be converted to 110 volts for dockside outlets, closets and drawer storage space.

Over 173,600 Homes Wait for Gas Heat

Local area home owners waiting for gas heat found their requests used as a basis for a new plea to the federal government for expansion of natural gas supplies recently in Washington.

Northern Illinois Gas Company's vice president, William J. Crowley, described as "urgent" his firm's need for an additional 145 million cubic feet of natural gas.

He told a Federal Power Commission hearing that on last Nov. 30 the company has requests for space heating service covering 173,688 homes.

The hearing concerns applications by subsidiaries of Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company of Chicago for authority to increase their peak deliveries to distributors by more than 485 million cubic feet daily.

Crowley described the request as "moderate" in view of the large backlog of home owners' requirements. "Northern Illinois serves some 260 communities in 20 counties, including the Chicago suburban area."

Crowley said indications are that home building in the area will continue at the present level for some time. He added, there is a large potential demand for gas space heating service in multi-family dwelling, commercial and industrial development.

Students May Qualify For Valuable Scholarships

Approximately 20 scholarships for study at Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, will be awarded to June graduates of accredited high schools on the basis of examinations to be given on Saturday, March 2.

Of the total, about 15 scholarships will be for one year's full tuition, and the others will cover all four years of college study.

The scholarships—which also consider high school record, qualities of leadership, and personal interviews—cover study in science, engineering, liberal studies, architecture, and industrial design. A number of them are reserved for women.

Deadline for filing applications is Monday, Feb. 18. The examination will be given at 8:45 a.m. in Illinois Tech's Student Union, 47 W. 33rd St., Chicago.

Applicants must meet the following qualifications: be a June 1957 graduate of an accredited high school; be in the upper quarter of his or her high school class; submit a written recommendation from high school principal or counselor, and be qualified for admission as outlined in the Illinois Tech general catalog.

Students who reside outside the Chicago area may take the examination by proctor.

Interested students should contact their high school counselors, or write directly to director of admissions, Illinois Institute of Technology Center, Chicago 16.

Sweet, smooth and sassy—that's Chevrolet all over. Above, you're looking at the Bel Air Sport Coupe.

Clings to the road like a stripe of paint!

The '57 Chevy can give lessons on taking curves and holding the road to just about any car going. Few cars at any price are so beautifully balanced and so smooth, sure and solid in action.

A car has to have a special kind of build and balance to keep curves under control. And nobody outdoes Chevrolet in that department! It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

And if the road should turn upward, Chevy can take care of that nicely, too—with up to 245 h.p.*

Come on in and take a turn at the wheel of a new Chevrolet.

Rep. Murphy Deplores Use of Tax Money To Build Plush Hotel at Dunes State Park

Rep. W. J. Murphy, hearing that the state in preparing to build a 60-room hotel at Dunes State Park near Zion on Lake Michigan has made a statement to the Antioch News in which he deplores the use of tax money to build a "real plush 'Miami' style hotel."

Rep. Murphy's explosive comment was:

"If you have the misfortune of having a retarded child or a handicapped child, it will take from one to two years to get that child in the State home—even after the Court commits the child—Why? Because they are so over-crowded—they need new additional buildings very desperately."

"Our State institutions are all over-crowded and yet the State can spend a million and a half dollars on an unneeded luxury hotel."

"I know the Governor very seriously thinks he is doing a wonderful thing for Lake county. I know that Senator McClory is very pleased with the results of his efforts in bringing this plush hotel into the actual building stage, but when are these well meaning people going to be realistic about our problems? When did Lake County last get a new highway? When will Route 21 cease to be a 17 foot wide death trap, and when will North Chicago get its 22nd street crossing corrected?"

When will Sheridan rd. be made adequate for the terrific amount of traffic that uses it daily? When will we get proper accommodations for the blind, deaf, and retarded children? For the people in our institutions? All these things are of more major importance than building a "plush" state-owned "Miami" style hotel here in Lake county to run opposition to our private enterprises in the Chain-O-Lakes region.

The intent of the Governor may be good, but it certainly doesn't make sense, when we are being threatened in this session of the legislature with raising the sales tax or putting an income tax on people who are now up to their necks in taxes and bills. When do we retrench a little? When will the State try to live on its income without searching for additional taxes? When will our handicapped and institution patients get proper housing and care?

Let's be more realistic with how we spend the people's money. Lake county doesn't need or want this one and a half million dollar plush hotel. We want highways, good schools and sane welfare programs instead!

HEALTH TALK

Adequate Diet Important

Food is essential to the human body to keep it functioning smoothly and an adequate supply, plus proper utilization by the body, frequently means good health as against nutritional ill health, according to Health Talk, issued by the Educational Committee of the Ill. State Medical Society.

A calorie is a measure of food energy. Carbohydrates are sugars, starches, celluloses and gums, for example, bread and potatoes. They provide energy. Proteins are made up of simpler nitrogen containing substances called amino acids. They provide energy and the material for growth and repair of tissues. One authority said if there were any one "secret of life," protein might be considered to be at the heart of it, since protein is the essential stuff of which all living tissue is made. About eighteen per cent of the human body consists of protein. Hair, nails, skin and muscle tissue consist almost entirely of protein and water. Fats, made up of simpler material called fatty acids, provide energy, the reserves of the body, and are more slowly utilized.

While protein can be a source of fuel for maintaining body temperature and for muscular work, fats and carbohydrates are the natural fuel foodstuffs.

To maintain an even balance, the body requires carbohydrates, fats, and proteins, plus certain minerals, vitamins and water. The intake of food can vary depending on occupation. For example, a worker in an office who does not have a great deal of exercise requires fewer calories than does the laborer or farmer whose daily activities demand more energy.

Nutrition experts agree that from 2,000 to 3,500 calories should be taken into the body each day to maintain a normal body balance as shown by a constant weight.

There are certain foods which have been designated "must" foods and which, if taken daily in adequate amounts, give the recommended number of calories to the human system, and also the minerals and vitamins, which, in minute amounts, are essential to proper use of foods in the body. These "must" foods are milk, eggs, meat, fruit, potatoes, vegetables, whole grain cereals and bread, and butter or reinforced margarine.

Today, Americans can be assured that eating sufficient amounts of the generous variety of foods available in this country will result in the body receiving the proper amounts of proteins, fats, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins so necessary to tissue repair, the building of good bone structure, adequate energy for the day's tasks and general well-being.

It is only when the body shows a deficiency in these elements that the physician will prescribe supplementary minerals or vitamins. For example, a lack of iron in the system may result in anemia; inadequate calcium may contribute to tooth decay, while a deficiency of iodine may be a factor in certain forms of goiter.

It is wise to remember too that the end-result of a balanced diet is the ability and strength to perform well one's daily work.

Let your doctor give you a physical examination each year. He is the one to decide whether your body properly assimilates the food in your program of eating for health.

Health Talk

Your First Baby

When the first baby arrives, the new parents are often confronted with fears that they will do something wrong in caring for the infant. This is a natural feeling, but it is the physician's job to render adequate advice to the mother so that she will have assurance in handling her baby, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in Health Talk.

With the new baby being the center of things, very often it is difficult for the mother to adjust herself to the change in routine. This is an emotional affair and can be worked out effectively, once the mother recognizes that she should not be too concerned about small disturbances in the old well managed routine of her previous life.

The baby's cry is an important signal, since this is the only way of expressing himself. For this reason the mother must understand the infant's need, whether he is hungry, wet, cold, frightened, or whether his arms and legs are restrained forcibly in any one position. Very often, the cry will indicate sheer boredom.

Many new mothers are inclined to feed the baby every time it cries. This is not wise, for the baby's gastrointestinal tract becomes distended with air and food, and the result is a constant colic.

In general, most mothers are inclined to overdress their babies. Actually the clothing varies with the season, but the infant should not be kept too hot. Cotton garments next to the skin are advisable, regardless of the season.

In some infants, a brownish crust appears on the top of the head. This condition is referred to as "cradle cap" and is an allergic manifestation indicating that the baby is sensitive to either some food or a substance with which he is in contact. It may even be caused by the mother's hair, scented soaps or perhaps the wool in clothing or blankets.

Most babies are born with rather long hair, yet many infants of three months seem to have a sparse amount. The hair of the newborn is of a very fine texture and is gradually lost. As the hair regrows a change of color is commonly noticed. Even though the regrowth is gradual, there is no need to be alarmed if the baby is well and developing normally.

The baby's eyes will change too. All babies are born with blue eyes; some may be dark and some light. The change in color is noted about the third month. Brown pigment or coloring matter makes its appearance gradually, so that when the infant reaches from six to eight months, parents can usually say whether the eyes are gray, blue or brown.

Give the baby comfortable surroundings, proper food and love. A calm and happy environment will do much not only for the baby, but for the parents, too. A baby needs a great deal of attention, but once the adjustment in household routine and living has been set he will make his own contribution of enjoyment to the family.

More babies are being born in hospitals and with a doctor in attendance than ever before, Health Information Foundation reports. In 1935 only 37 percent were born in hospitals and 13 per cent of all births were unattended by doctors. In 1956 almost 95 per cent were hospital-born, and doctors attended 97 per cent of all births.

Especially for Pet Owners . . .

Wounds on a cat's ears often are caused by the bites or scratches of other animals. Such wounds should be regarded as serious because they may become infected if not properly cared for.

Pet owners who change residence or for some other reason fail to complete a regular schedule for having their pets immunized against distemper should have the veterinarian start the series over again rather than run the risk resulting from the interruption.

Veterinary medical research workers have discovered a modified complement-fixation test which shows value in diagnosing Jahne's disease in cattle when the animals are free of tuberculosis.

Inability to sit on a perch, laying eggs on the cage floor, even convulsions may indicate vitamin-mineral deficiency in canaries and other small caged birds.

Three drops of a mixture of equal parts of olive oil and castor oil are useful for relief of impacted crop in small caged birds. Veterinary diagnosis can best determine when such home treatment may be necessary.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

One of the obligations which many parents neglect is their duty to any of their children accompanying them when the parent is behind the steering wheel.

We often hear talk about young drivers violating the rules of the road, such as shooting through a traffic signal on the amber light, or gliding through a stop sign. But we seldom hear talk of "Why" they develop such habits.

Too many times the youngsters are only doing what comes naturally to them. They have seen one or both of their parents doing the same thing for years. The parents were forgetting their obligations to the youngsters.

It is bad enough that in the first place the parents violated the laws and endangered their lives and the lives of their young passengers. But, in addition, they have presented to their children an attitude reflecting little respect for the laws designed to protect their lives and the lives of others.

Children pick up driving habits from their parents as they pick up other habits. If those habits are bad, then they will be reflected in the driving of the youngsters.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Students Study Ways of Improving Program

A discussion of ways in which the noon-hour recreation program at Antioch Township High School maybe improved took place Tuesday at the school, a committee of four students reporting on their observations at other schools in the conference.

Members of the committee were Rosa Mena, Mary Forbrick, David Mitchell and Richard Hogan. They were accompanied on their tour of the conference by Principal A. L. Dittman.

"Newspapers in the United States give you more information than any other source of informative media. They are the very foundation of communication between the governments and the people, between this country and the world, between buyers and sellers, between the constant phase of our way of life and the people who are deeply interested or involved in those phases."

The joint relief action on behalf of Hungarians by 52 National Red Cross societies in the world has become the biggest undertaking by Red Cross since the North Sea flood disaster of 1953 which hit the Netherlands, Great Britain, and Belgium.

Antioch Beats Ela.....

in the Bears' favor. The score moved to 38-30.

Then Tommy Gudgeon stole the ball and drove in for a layup shot which tied the score 38-38.

Art Hanke scored four points which put Antioch ahead. This lead they maintained throughout the rest of the period until the final seconds when in their desperation to get control of the ball Ela fouled, and the three free-throws widened the gap to the 53-46 score.

Antioch's recovery in the second half resulted mainly from the rebounding of Jerry Huml and Wayne Herbst who controlled both boards. The press of Gudgeon and Dick Behrens limited high scoring Jim Buciak to four field goals. Huml and Hanke were high point men for Antioch with 16 and 13 points respectively.

Commenting on the Ela-Vernon game, Coach Larry Leon said that his men just couldn't get started in the first half and everything they tried failed. In the second half their luck changed to the reverse and no one in the conference could have beaten them.

He said the full press established by Antioch kept the Bears from getting past the center line much of the time.

"There were no outstanding stars. It was just good team work," Leon insisted.

Red Cross.....

the southern half came under the jurisdiction of the Chicago Chapter. The union was achieved after a long study concluded that the county could be better served by a single chapter.

"I believe it should be made clear that seventy percent of the funds collected in Lake County remain in the county local Red Cross work. These funds are used to carry out the chapter obligations wherein the American Red Cross is charged with the responsibility to (a) furnish voluntary aid to sick and wounded in time of war; (b) act as a communication between the people of the United States and its Army and Navy, and (c) carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and mitigate the suffering caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other calamities."

"The funds further provide instruction in Educational Services such as first aid, water safety and nursing services; services of volunteer groups working in the veteran and Military hospitals, the Gray Ladies, staff aides, canteen and social welfare aides, nurses aides, production and supply, entertainment and instruction, motor service, and arts and skills.

Instruction and training is given in each of these services so that volunteers can serve the organizations, institutions, and individuals wherever the need is indicated throughout the county.

Of course
she can get along without a dryer

..but why - when ELECTRIC dryers cost so little, are fume-free, fast and thrifty!

Just 6¢ will dry a big load electrically!

One of the wonderful things about having an electric dryer is that your clothes come out as fluffy and sweet-smelling as if you'd had them in the sun all day.

No musty basement odor. No fumes. Just clean, dry, radiant heat—like the sun gives.

All electric dryers are fully automatic (a good deal more dependable than the sun). Fast, too. You can dry a load of cottons in 25 to 30 minutes—and for only 6¢ worth of electricity!

You'll notice that all the "no vent" dryers are electric. Heat, lint and moisture just disappear down the drain. Your laundry area stays clean, dry and comfortable.

Why not see your electric appliance dealer?

Public Service Company

Big Saving—ask your dealer about our Share-the-Cost Installation Plan. It's the low-cost way to get the modern 100-amp home wiring you need for today's electric living appliances. The Plan is available to qualified home owners on terms up to 2 years.

If you own an electric range, you save up to $25 on a new dryer! In fact if you have any 240-volt appliance your home probably has modern wiring already. This means the complete, installed price of your new electric dryer will be less than any other kind.
